New Farm Bill Approved, Sent To White House

WASHINGTON — The House today completed congressional action on a "second chance" farm bill and sent it to the White House. Republicans said President Eisenhower will sign it.

The House approved the bill by a roll call vote of 304-59.

House action on the compromise measure came 37 days after Mr. Eisenhower vetoed the first one. The long, politically explosive fight ended in legislative victory for Mr. Eisenhower.

The new bill contains the administration's $1,200,000,000 soil bank plan. It was stripped of the rigid high supports in the original bill which would have scuttled the administration's flexible farm program. Other major features cited by the President in his veto message were deleted or drastically watered down.

A Compromise Solution
But Rep. W. R. Poage (D-Tex.), floor manager of the compromise measure, told the House the fight for restoration of rigid high supports had not been fruitless.

He noted that Mr. Eisenhower ordered support prices for major crops boosted when he vetoed the first price-boosting measure. He termed it an admission that the props set by the administration were "too low."

"The President went part way," Poage said, "and the farmers have this Congress to thank for that."

The Senate approved the compromise bill late Tuesday, a few hours after the Senate-House conferees agreed on the compromise.

National Salvation Army Week is Observed at Meeting of Kiwanis Club

National Salvation Army week was observed last night at the Kiwanis club at the regular meeting held at the Masonic temple.

Lt. Andrew Sands of the local Salvation Army post was in charge of the program and special guests included his wife, Mrs. Sands, also an ordained minister in the Salvation Army, Mrs. Ruby Ward and Mrs. Beulah Yarber of the local post.

Special speaker was Major Preston Kiefer, commanding officer of the post at Cape Girardeau, Mo.

Major Kiefer explained the work of the Salvation Army, especially in this (St. Louis) division with the less fortunate people of the area, but he also stated the first thought of the Salvation is the soul of the individual and to impress on him help is only through God.

Salvation Army in Action meetings are still a main function of the organization he stated.

Salvation Army services include providing food to those in need; furnishing shelter; finding jobs; aiding in disasters; aiding unmarried mothers; aiding servicemen; assisting hospital patients; comforting prison inmates; locating missing persons; counseling families; guiding young people; conducting religious services; leading to God meetings; and work with the alcoholics.

Lt. Sands explained the Salvation Army officers in the United States are trained at four colleges and its work is divided into two parts: church and welfare programs.

Lt. Sands is a member of the Harrisburg Kiwanis club and Major Kiefer is a Kiwanian at Cape Girardeau.

Ronnie Doerge, president of the club announced a board of directors meeting will be held Monday evening, June 4, at Schriber's cafe.

He also announced the club was second in activities in the Illinois Eastern Iowa district.

The club also voted to send a telegram requesting Congress action on the Saline River flood control project.

Eisenhower Defends Armed Service Feuds

President Says
Officers Should Support Strategy

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower today defended the right of the armed services to argue forcefully among themselves on the best way to protect the country. But he said these arguments should not be conducted in a manner to alarm the nation.

Speaking with tight-lipped intensity, Mr. Eisenhower said any officer who fails to support the President's decision on defense strategy is not fit for command.

The day discipline disappears from the military, he said, the nation will have no armed force worthy of mention.

The President at his news conference appealed to the country to appraise the strength of America as a massive whole involving the economy, the farms, and the schools and not only the development of one weapon against another.

The armed forces have been feuding over the merits of various service weapons and their respective roles in any future war.

Mr. Eisenhower at his news conference also

Members Applaud Gray But Vote Down Area River Projects

WASHINGTON — "I'm probably not much to look at," Rep. Kenneth J. Gray (D-Ill.) told the House Tuesday. "But I'll tell you that unless you give me some money for my rivers, you won't be seeing my face around here next year."

Members laughed and applauded the dapper 31-year-old Gray, a licensed auctioneer and magician.

But they voted down 120-111 Gray's amendment to provide an extra $150,000 to finance studies of three river projects in southern Illinois.

Truman is Sorry, Denies Statement About 'Some Squirrel-Headed' General

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman said today he was sorry about the "very embarrassing situation" created by published reports of his statement that "some squirrel-headed-general" ordered the invasion at Salerno in 1943.

He reiterated a denial, issued earlier by his secretary, Eugene Bailey, that he had ever made such a statement.

"I would make no comment like that," Mr. Truman told newsmen. "I'd been listening to the conversation of several people who had been there. I am sorry about it but it's a very embarrassing situation and I hope you'll clear it up."

"I do not want to embarrass anybody, especially the people who are with me and reporting on me. I never scold anybody when things don't go straight, though I wish you would clear it up."

On a visit to Salerno Tuesday,

Mr. Truman was asked why the allied forces had chosen a point which has high hills overlooking its beaches as an invasion site.

"Oh, some squirrel-headed general," Mr. Truman replied in an off-hand manner.

This morning, Bailey issued a statement which said: "Mr. Truman denies that this was his direct statement. He said he may have been repeating what one of the reporters said to him merely as a joke."

But this afternoon Mr. Truman, who had been unavailable to newsmen all morning during a tour of Pompeii and a visit to the southern headquarters of NATO, was cornered by reporters pressing for further comment.

Mr. Truman's statement this afternoon, in effect, placed the disputed remark in the context of an unstudied and off-the-cuff quip made in the course of a general conversation with reporters at a sidewalk cafe.

Driver Donald Wolfal Hurt In Collision

Hayes Transport
With Deadly Cargo
Jack-knives, is Hit

A Hayes Freight Lines transport loaded with sodium cyanide and an empty gravel truck collided at 1:30 p. m. yesterday on Route 34 four miles south of Harrisburg, the collision sending Donald Wolfal of Harrisburg to the hospital.

Wolfal, driver of the dump truck for George Glass of Harrisburg, was taken by ambulance to the Harrisburg hospital in an unconscious condition after officers and others extricated him from the cab of the vehicle.

State Policeman Adolph Sweat, who with State Policeman Roy A. Lane were called to the scene, said the Hayes truck was headed north with 32,500 pounds of deadly sodium cyanide loaded in barrels, en route from a Du Pont plant at Memphis to Chicago.

He said that the Hayes truck, driven by Sammy Leon Sullivan of Vincennes, Ind., was travelling behind a truck of the Southeastern Illinois Electric co-operative driven by Everett Somers of West Frankfort. Somers, he stated, apparently intended to make a left turn off the highway but did not and Sullivan slammed on the brakes of the Hayes truck, the big machine jack-knifed.

Coming from the opposite direction was the Glass dump truck and the two vehicles collided, the SEIEC truck escaping undamaged.

Wolfal was taken to the hospital and Sullivan suffered an injury to his left knee and a cut under his left armpit. Both trucks were demolished.

Traffic was tied up for about two hours as efforts were made to get the Hayes truck from across the pavement by using three wreckers and a winch truck. Not until the SEIEC dispatched a huge bulldozer to the scene was the truck removed from the highway.

Fire Truck at Scene
Gasoline and diesel oil oozed from the two demolished trucks, causing an added hazard on the highway. The Harrisburg fire department was at the scene as a precautionary measure.

Deputy Sheriff James Lyon reported a crash that occurred about 10 o'clock last night on Route 45 near the B and M cafe south of Eldorado. Cars driven by Claude Phelps and Mrs. Andrew Hulet, both of Eldorado, were involved.

Lions said Phelps stopped to make a left turn into the B and M cafe and his car was hit by the Hulet auto. Mrs. Hulet received treatment for a cut on the chin. Phelps was not hurt. Both cars were badly damaged, Mrs. Hulet's extensively.

In another accident yesterday, a car driven by John Wible of Carrier Mills overturned on Route 45 between Stonefort and Carrier Mills. The car was badly damaged but Mr. Wible suffered only a cut near the eye, it was reported.

Reports were that Larry Edwards of Carrier Mills was driving ahead of Mr. Wible and that the youth braked his car to slow down when a dog or dogs crossed the highway. Mr. Wible, coming up behind, put on his brakes and the car overturned, it was stated.

Defendant in Gov't Suit Has Heart Attack

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Harry I. Schwimmer, on trial with two Truman administration officials on charges of conspiracy to defraud, suffered a heart attack today and was assisted from the federal courtroom.

A physician ordered Schwimmer, who has suffered from a heart condition since 1949, taken to a hospital at once. Schwimmer refused to go. His wife quoted him as saying "I'm going to stay in the courtroom if it kills me."

His attorney, Morris Shenker, persuaded him to follow the physician's instructions, however, and Schwimmer was sent to Lutheran hospital.

Schwimmer was stricken shortly after Shenker made a motion to throw out government evidence gathered from Schwimmer's personal papers on the grounds of possible self incrimination.

The government has based much of its case against Schwimmer and the other defendants, Matthew J. Connelly, White House aide to former President Truman, and T. Lamar Caudle, former head of the Justice Department's tax division, on the papers which it seized in a Kansas City warehouse.

Shenker contended in the motion that the papers had been taken by government agents through illegal search and seizure in violation of the Fourth Amendment and their use by the prosecution was in violation of the Fifth Amendment.

Judge Ruben M. Hulen took the motion, along with several others made by counsel for Connelly and Caudle, under submission. He did not indicate when he would rule on them.

Mrs. Willie Wright, 70,
Former Resident

The body is being returned to Eldorado by the Martin funeral home ambulance and upon arrival will lie in state at the funeral home. Funeral services will be held Friday, the hour undetermined, at Mt. Pleasant Baptist church. Rev. Carl Downey will officiate and burial will be in Sunset Hill cemetery.

MISS DOROTHY HANNING RECEIVES ARION AWARD—

A highlight of the spring concert presented by the Harrisburg Township high school chorus and band Tuesday evening was the presentation of the National Arion award. The award is presented each year to the senior voted the outstanding HTHS music student.

All members of the music department vote to select the winner. The award is sponsored in Harrisburg by the Rotary club and Eltis Henson, HTHS principal and a member of the Rotary club, made the presentation to Miss Hanning, a member of the choral group and other vocal musical organizations. She received a superior rating as a soloist at the state music contest this year. The band, directed by Marshall Cothran, and the chorus, directed by John Schork, presented an hour-long program last night that was well received by those attending.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

We shall receive power after that the Holy Spirit is come upon us.
Acts 1:8.

There are powers resident with in us that we seldom use. Christ called it the Kingdom of Heaven.
One technique by which we can use this power is to say COME IN to Him Who stands at the door and knocks. It is as simple as that.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Democrats Throw Monkey-Wrench Into Their Own Machinery; Sukarno-Eisenhower Toasts Delayed A Sinkful Of Dishes; Labor Opponent In North Carolina Faces Re-Election Fight.

WASHINGTON. — The Democratic National committee, already harassed by a threadbare treasury and bleak chances in November, has deliberately thrown a monkey-wrench into its own machinery.

Neal Roach, who was supposed to arrange for the fast-approaching national convention at Chicago, has just resigned in a personal row with Chairman Paul Butler.

Not only has this thrown plans for the Chicago convention out of gear, but it may result in a drastic reshuffle of the Democratic National committee, possibly even the exit of Butler.

The situation is so serious that ex-President Truman sent a page-and-a-half cable from Europe protesting the resignation of Roach.
Leslie Biffle, another party stalwart, is also blazing mad at Butler for letting Roach resign; while Col. Jack Arvey, leader of Democratic forces in Chicago, is irked at Butler for various reasons.

The funny thing is that the crisis occurred over a lady—Miss Frances Spivey, Roach's secretary.

Butler would not permit Miss Spivey to go to Chicago to work with Roach, and Roach refused to work without her.

He pointed out that organizing a national convention is a back-breaking job that requires personnel familiar with who's who in the Democratic party. He couldn't, said Roach, do the job with a secretary hired in Chicago who didn't know the score. Miss Spivey has handled other conventions, worked long hours in preparing for them.

But Chairman Butler said no.

It's now the chairman's next move. He has to get someone out of Chicago to start organizing for what will be one of the most important conventions in Democratic history—and he has to do it quick.

MR. KIADES WAITED

The regular stenographer scheduled to transcribe the toasts of President Eisenhower and President Sukarno of Indonesia got sick at the last minute, so hurried phone calls were made to recruit a substitute.

Mrs. Alice Kiades of Alexandria, Va., finally obliged, though protesting that she should not leave a sinkful of dishes, a hungry husband, and two sleepy children.

"You can get back to your husband by 9 p. m.," reassured officials of the Indonesian embassy.

Looking down from the balcony of the Mayflower Hotel at President Eisenhower and President Sukarno, she found work both prolonged and complicated. First, the toasts turned out to be full-dress, though impromptu speeches. She had to take down every word, then transcribe the record afterward.

"My husband will never believe this," Mrs. Kiades kept saying, half-aloud, as the clock ticked past 9 p. m., then 10 p. m., then 11 p. m.

"My husband will never believe this," she repeated as the clock reached midnight and she thought of that sinkful of dishes and the hungry, if not irate, Mr. Kiades.

Finally the Indonesian staff autographed the dinner menu to show where she was, gave her a bottle of champagne, and at 1 a.
m. the obliging Mrs. Kiades went back to the sinkful of dishes. Mr.
Kiades did believe her.

CHANGING CONGRESSMAN

One of the most interesting figures in Congress who has wielded power, both good and bad, over the schools, the libraries, and the labor laws of the nation, comes up for re-election this week.

He is Congressman Graham Barden, the charming, sometimes crusty Democrat from North Carolina, who as chairman of the Labor and Education committee was able to block the Minimum Wage bill for months last year.
He did this simply by calling no meetings of his committee.

Congressmen, being human, sometimes change. As they get older they change more. That seems particularly true in the case of Graham Barden.

Some of the most constructive legislation helping human beings bears his name—the LaFollette-Barden Act for the rehabilitation of the blind; the George-Barden Act for vocational training in high schools; and quite recently, the Library Service Act that will provide 27,000,000 rural Americans with the books now available to city-dwellers in public libraries.

At one time Barden was a root-in-tootin booster for aid to education; also the most aggressive House defender of the Tennessee Valley Authority. Now he's hanging back on school construction and has completely reversed himself on public power.

Barden has become so crusty and irreconcilable on public power that he actually paid $1,200 out of his own pocket to construct a power line to his new home on the edge of New Bern so he wouldn't have to get current from city-operated public power.

This didn't go down well with the people of New Bern, who have had a city powerplant for years.
They attribute it not to the fact that Barden is chummy with Louis
V. Sutton, president of Carolina Power and Light and spoke at the dedication of the company's new plant at Goldsboro. They just think their congressman is getting cantankerous.

That's why for the first time in years he has real opposition in the Democratic primary. Running against him is live-wire 33-year-old James O. Simpkins, who got the local Jaycee man-of-the-year award and whose Jaycee vehicle safety-check program won national awards from Look Magazine and the National Safety Council.

Note — Barden will probably win out in the final balloting, but the competition is such that he has sent Kennedy Ward and Fred Hussey, both paid by the taxpayers to work on the Labor committee in Washington, back to New Bern to work on his political campaign.

New Firm Releases Polio Vaccine

WASHINGTON. — A new firm joined the ranks of polio vaccine makers today with the release of 695,673 Salk shots made by Sharp & Dohme of Philadelphia.

Sharp & Dohme was licensed to make the vaccine along with five other manufacturers more than a year ago. But until now it had not produced a single shot for public distribution. Its entry into the production picture means a further step-up in vaccine output for the 1956 polio season.

Postmaster Urges Improvement of Rural Mail Boxes

"This is rural mail box improvement week and all patrons of the rural postal service are asked to cooperate by improving the looks of their mail boxes," A. M. Hetherington, Harrisburg postmaster, declared today.

Mr. Hetherington continued by stating this was the 18th year the Postal Department had asked rural carriers and rural patrons to work together in having mail boxes erected according to regulations and made more attractive by painting and making other improvements.

All mail boxes should be serviceable. That is, they should protect the mail from the weather and not injure the carrier. Boxes should be properly supported with strong posts. The boxes should be easily accessible to the carrier, with the name of the owner inscribed in black letters on the side visible to the carrier as he approaches the box.

Mail boxes should be about 42 inches above the ground and on an arm extending out from the post. When neighbors live close together, the boxes should be grouped, preferable on a shelf like board attached atop two or more strong posts.

"Mail boxes may be painted either white or silver and the patron's name printed in neat black letters about one inch high. Let's make rural America more beautiful by making our mail boxes attractive," Postmaster Hetherington said.

Rural mail box improvement week began Monday, May 21, and will continue through May 26.

This Assessor Napping

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — City
Assessor Harold A. Linn is all set for complaining taxpayers who say, "I'll bet the valuation on your house is pretty low."

Linn just opens a record book which shows the valuation on his own home has been raised from $5,100 to $6,900 during the past two years.

"You're a darn fool to raise your own tax bill," one taxpayer told him. "It does cost me a little money, but it answers questions like yours," Linn replied.

Eighteen persons were killed and 26 injured, 3 of them seriously. The bus was traveling down a steep mountain road carrying Austrian tourists from Venice to Austria. It suddenly lurched onto the shoulder and then plunged over a 50-foot embankment into a mountain stream.

House Approves

$790,784,000

For Public Works

WASHINGTON — The House shouted approval Tuesday of a $790,784,000 money bill to finance public works in fiscal 1957. It was sent to the Senate.

The bill was $27,743,000 less than President Eisenhower requested. But it was $3,305,000 more than the House Appropriations committee recommended.

The measure allotted $582,811,000 to the Army Engineers for rivers and harbors and flood control work — $434,000 more than the administration budget request.

However, it provided only $167,612,000 for the Bureau of Reclamation — $29,177,000 less than the budget request.

William Gladstone became prime minister of Great Britain for the last time when he was 83 years old.

More Layoffs by

General Motors

DETROIT — The ranks of the nation's unemployed will be swelled by at least 4,500 more workers this week because of additional auto production cutbacks at two General Motors Corp. divisions.

The latest slashes were reported Tuesday by the Chevrolet and Fisher Body divisions. Chevrolet said it planned to release 2,500 workers Friday at its 32 plants across the nation. Fisher Body said it laid off 2,000 workers Monday at 15 of its 35 plants. On Monday, GM's Pontiac Division laid off another 500 employees.

A GM spokesman said layoff figures at the giant auto firm's other divisions were not immediately available.

The newly idled workers will increase the nation's automotive unemployment rolls to an estimated 164,000. Of this figure, at least 50,000 are from the GM work force.

The $50,000 figure was given by GM President Harlow Curtice but the United Auto Workers Union estimated GM's layoffs at closer to 60,000.

Twelve operas are credited to Giuseppe Verdi, who died in 1901 at the age of 68.

THE HARD WAY

Demos Lukewarm To Stevenson Discuss Ticket

SPRINGFIELD — Two top Illinois Democrats who are lukewarm toward Adlai E. Stevenson huddled with Democratic National Convention delegates today to talk over the 1956 election picture.

Former U. S. Sen. Scott W. Lucas, who was reported to have issued the invitations, said presidential candidates would be discussed but emphasized that "this is not an anti-Stevenson meeting."

"We're interested in helping the state ticket in November," he said.

Invited to attend were downstate Democrats who were elected convention delegates and alternate delegates in the April 10 primary. Democratic headquarters said it was not sponsoring the meeting, but told delegates it had no objection to their attending.

Former Gov. John Stelle of McLeansboro, long a power in downstate Democratic politics, was expected to be on hand. Stelle has often been at odds with the party organization, and has been cool toward Stevenson.

Lucas, defeated for reelection in 1950, sought organization endorsement for nomination as U. S. senator this spring, but withdrew when party leaders backed State Rep. Richard Stengel (D-Rock Island).

Stevenson took no part in the slatemaking, but it was felt he favored Stengel, a legislative leader while Stevenson was governor.

After Stevenson was trounced by Sen. Estes Kefauver in the Minnesota presidential primary March 20, Lucas said only a "political miracle" now could win the presidential nomination for Stevenson.

MacAuley Signs Hawks Contract

ST. LOUIS — Ed MacAuley, recently obtained from the Boston Celtics, and Dave Plunkett, a rookie from the University of Cincinnati, have signed their 1956 contracts with the St. Louis Hawks of the National Basketball Assn. MacAuley is a veteran NBA star, while Plunkett was the Hawks' fifth draft pick.

Braves Rout Erskine to Beat Dodgers, 7-3; Cardinals Down Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-3

By United Press
Hank Aaron's on a .600-batting tear today that's proving the Milwaukee Brave outfielder is every bit as good as his word.

Aaron predicted when his average was a sickly .211 only a week ago that he'd "get in the groove once we start playing regularly" and since then he has collected 12 hits in 20 trips to lift his mark to .312. Aaron estimates he can hit .340 this year and win his first National league batting title.

The 24-year old Negro's spectacular batting surge reached a peak Tuesday night when he collected four hits, including his fourth homer of the season, in leading the Braves to a 7-3 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers. It was the Braves' second win in as many meetings with the world champions.

Erskine Routed Again
Aaron homered in the second inning to give the Braves a lead they never lost and added a double and two singles in a 13-hit attack that also included homers by Johnny Logan and Ed Mathews. The assault routed Carl Erskine for the second straight time since he pitched the second no-hitter of his career on May 12. Bob Buhl stuck it out for 7 1-3 innings to gain his third win and second over the Dodgers with relief aid from Dave Jolly.

The victory enabled the Braves to hold a 23-point first-place lead over the St. Louis Cardinals, who downed the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-3. The Cincinnati Redlegs beat the New York Giants, 6-3, in the other NL game.

Bobby Del Greco scored one run and drove in another against his former teammates as the Cardinals snapped the Pirates' three-game winning streak before 19,316—largest night crowd at Forbes Field in four years. Herman Wehmeier increased his lifetime record against Pittsburgh to 24-8 although Jackie Collum hurled the last 2 1-3 frames.

Roy McMillan and rookie Frank Robinson homered as the Redlegs staged a four-run seventh-inning rally to beat the Giants. Joe Nuxhall turned in a four-hitter to score his first triumph of the year and give the Redlegs their fifth victory in six games.

Bosox Move Up
In the American league, the Boston Red Sox moved to within a half game of second-place Cleveland when they defeated the Indians, 5-3. Tom Brewer notched his fifth win with Dave Sisler coming on in the ninth to wrap up. Billy Goodman's two-run homer in the seventh was the clincher for the Red Sox, who have won seven of their last nine games.

Red Wilson cracked a two-run homer in the ninth inning to give the Detroit Tigers a 3-2 victory that snapped the New York Yankees' six-game winning streak as well as Whitey Ford's personal six-game skid. Frank Lary, whose only other win this year was over the Yankees, hung a horse-collar on Mickey Mantle and limited the New Yorkers to seven hits.

Rookie Troy Herriage pitched a three-hitter for his first triumph as the Kansas City Athletics downed the Washington Senators, 6-1, in the other AL game. The Athletics scored five runs in the second inning on two doubles and four walks to hand the Senators their 11th loss in 14 games.

Rule School Sup't is Teacher Under Tenure Law

SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois Supreme Court today held in a split decision that a school superintendent is a teacher within the meaning of the teacher tenure law.

The high court decision reversed a 3rd District Appellate Court ruling and upheld the Macoupin County Circuit Court.

The Circuit Court had awarded Erma W. McNely a $4,900 judgment for one year's salary for the late Earl J. McNely, superintendent of Community Unit School District No. 7 in Macoupin county.

McNely was dismissed from his job April 25, 1951. Erma McNely contended he was entitled to continued pay up to the time of his death under the teacher tenure law.

The Supreme Court said superintendents, like teachers, must be certified. This, the court said, "leaves us with the inevitable conclusion that superintendents are, under present law, and were under prior law, 'teachers' within the definition of the teacher tenure law."

Six SIU Seniors End Track Careers

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Six Southern Illinois university seniors have ended their college track careers. They are: James Alexander, Herrin; Richard Blythe, Hammond, Ind.; Jack Morgan, Carbondale; Harold Perry, St. Louis; Vernon Sprehe, Nashville; and Richard Gregory, St. Louis.

Sprehe is tied for the SIU 100-yard dash record with a .09.9 time while Alexander holds the broad jump record of 23 feet, 7 1-2 inches. SIU closed its season last week (May 19) with a last-place finish in the seven-team Interstate Conference meet at Central Michigan college. Four new records were set during the two-day contest.

Scoring for Southern were captain Sammie DeNeal, Harrisburg, second in the 440; Marion Rushing, Pinesville, second in the javelin; Richard Gregory, St. Louis, fourth in the mile, and the mile relay team, which placed third.

Meet winner was Central Michigan.

In dual meets this season, SIU had a 3-3 record.

House Committee Approves Bill to Boost CCC Funds

WASHINGTON (UP)—The House Banking Committee today approved a bill to increase to a record high 14 billion dollars the funds which Commodity Credit Corporation can borrow from the Treasury to finance programs to bolster farm income.

The limit now is 12 billion dollars. Much of it already is tied up in farm surpluses. Agriculture officials have testified that CCC will run out of funds next fall unless the additional two billion dollars is granted.

Before approving by voice vote the increase in CCC funds, the committee shouted down an amendment to set a dollar limit on price support benefits that can be extended to any individual farmer.

The proposal, advanced by Rep. Oliver P. Bolton, (R-Ohio), would have restricted price support loans for an individual farmer to a total of $25,000 a year.

Rollins Plays First Game with Globetrotters At Ayr, Scotland

The Daily Register Sports Department has received a post card from Oliver Rollins, Carrier Mills gift to the Harlem Globetrotters.

The card was written just after Rollins had played his first game overseas, in Ayr, Scotland.

Rollins states he was a "little scared" in the game, but did okay. He says, "They have me playing in the pivot and are going to make a trickster out of me. It has been fun so far."

Rollins was in the Globetrotter party that left New York by airplane last Tuesday, May 16. The group will travel through twenty-one countries before returning to the United States about the last of August.

Dale Long Boosts Average to .411

PITTSBURGH — First-base man Dale Long of the Pittsburgh Pirates took over today as the majors' new batting leader. Long had three hits in four trips to the plate in the Pirates' 6-3 loss to the Cardinals Tuesday night to lift his average to .411.

Prep Baseball Now Ranks with Football And Track Behind Basketball: Willis

By TOM NELSON
United Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO — Baseball has come into its own as a top Illinois high school sport, an authority said today.

Albert Willis, executive secretary of the Illinois High School Assn., said baseball now ranks in popularity with football and track, behind the No. 1 Illinois prep sport of basketball.

It wasn't always so, Willis recalled. Back in 1940, when Peoria Manual Coach R. L. Exter got together the first IHSA-sanctioned state baseball meet, only 94 teams entered the elimination.

The IHSA took over sponsorship the next year and 123 teams took part. Then came the war, and the entries fell to a low of 64 in 1943.

But since the end of World War II, the number of high school nines has grown by leaps and bounds. A record 372 teams are playing in the 1956 diamond competition, now underway across the state.

Willis said one factor in the upsurge of interest in prep baseball is that schools now provide more money for athletics.

"There has been a general expansion of athletic programs," he said. "For example, in the earlier days they didn't generally employ baseball coaches. Now they're beginning to do that."

Willis said baseball costs more than many sports. The expense of baseballs, equipment, bats, uniforms and travel is "alarming," he said. Most schools don't find they can charge admission to games like they can for basketball and football to meet costs.

Willis said another reason for baseball's rise, beside the expanding athletic program, has been the help of professional ball. He cited the pro game's aid in publishing rule books, holding clinics and making its personnel available for baseball schools.

"And certainly the Little Leagues and the American Legion's summer program have added some emphasis to high school ball," he said.

Willis said that though many schools now have "excellent" parks and some have lights for night games, the lack of facilities still plagues some teams. He said another headache is the lack of good weather for spring baseball schedules.

Mantle's Year To Break Record IN THE Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK — Frank (Home Run) Baker stepped out of the baseball past today with a flat prediction that Mickey Mantle will break Babe Ruth's home run record and, in all probability, will do it this season.

"Barring accidents or injuries, Mantle should surpass Ruth's record of 60 home runs this year," Baker asserted. "That's the only thing which can stop him."

The principal reason, said the man who was the home run champion of the American League four straight years, is that Mantle "finally has found himself."

Certainly the early season statistics support the contention of the Maryland farmer who was admitted to the Hall of Fame last year. For Mantle has walloped 16 home runs in the Yankees' first 33 games — putting him 10 games ahead of Ruth's record 1927 pace.

To Be Mantle's Year
"I think this is going to be Mantle's year," explained Baker, who as a member of Connie Mack's famed $100,000 infield led the league for the Athletics from 1911 through 1914. "It takes any youngster a certain amount of time to find himself. Mickey finally has."

Last season, I saw him play against Boston and I thought then that he was finding himself at last," said Baker, who at 70 still is erect and square-shouldered.

"But there is a vast difference even since last year. When I saw his added poise and power this year I knew he was on his way."

Tanned and horn-handed from working on his 600-acre farm in Trappe, Md., Baker shrugs off his feats in the so-called "dead ball era."

His league-leading home run totals were nine in 1911, 10 in 1912, 12 in 1913 and eight in 1914, while in 13 seasons with the A's and the Yankees he managed a total of "only" 93 homers. In that era it was a magnificent performance.

The big man with the iron-gray hair prefers, instead, to look at the present and the future.

An Old Phrase
"Eventually, somebody is going to have to break Ruth's record," he insists. "It's an old phrase, but a good one, that records are made to be broken."

"Mantle looks to me like the fellow who can do it," he added. "Remember, that record of Ruth's has been under heavy fire. Jimmy Foxx could have tied it if he had been given credit for a home run in a called game. I don't look at the big 60 as if it can't be broken."

Mantle, Baker contends, has the best chance "because he has so much power and he gets a piece of one ball regularly."

"Any time he goes to bat he's got a chance to put it out of the park," said the man who made the home run famous. "Yogi Berra, the Yankee catcher, has the same kind of power but he isn't consistent enough. Mantle looks to me like the boy to do it."

"And," he concluded, "once he does, Mantle may go on to put it clear out of sight. There's no limit to what that young man just might do."

Anita Ekberg, Screen Idol Wed In Hectic Affair

FLORENCE, Italy (U) — Luscious Anita Ekberg and screen idol Anthony Steel headed today for a London honeymoon that threatened to be as hectic as their "circus" wedding.

The British actor who melted the "Swedish iceberg" was in no hurry to get to London where he is due to start work on a new film at 7:30 a. m. Thursday.

The bride and groom dined out Tuesday night after the wedding and then took a moonlit buggy ride through romantic Florence.

Anita still was dressed in the form-clinging pagan goddess silk dress which she wore at the wedding, but she covered her bare shoulders with a long mink coat.

The wedding ceremony itself still was the talk of the town today, especially for the 3,000 tourists and citizens who turned it into a near riot as the newlyweds left the ancient hall of Pope Leo X in Florence's historic Palazzo Vecchio Tuesday.

The crowd grabbed at the couple's clothes. In the case of Anita this was nearly disastrous. There was very little of the skin-tight dress to grab.

Police came to the rescue and conveyed the couple through the mob. The site was the same where 458 years ago today Friar Girolamo Savonarola was hanged and burned for preaching against womanly display.

Both Miss Ekberg, 24, and her 36-year old husband were indignant at the behavior of news photographers.

"It was very nice to get married, but the ceremony was ruined by those horrible newspapermen," she said.

Indict Lansing Man For Enslaving Mental Incompetent

DETROIT (U) — A Lansing, Mich., businessman faced a possible five-year prison sentence and $5,000 fine today for enslaving a mental incompetent and holding him in irons.

Malcolm N. Button, 55, who has a furniture business at Lansing and a large farm near Grayling, Mich., was indicted Tuesday by a federal grand jury.

The jury charged Button with holding Chauncey A. Cook, 53, a ward of the court, in "involuntary servitude by threats, force, beatings and physical restraint." No date was set for Button's arraignment.

Assistant United States Attorney Donald F. Weld said Button kept Cook in chains and leg irons from August, 1953, to June, 1955, because Cook repeatedly ran away from his guardian's farm.

Button was named Cook's legal guardian in 1951 by the Ingham County Probate Court which paid $21 a month for the man's board and keep.

88 Survivors of Korean War Dead Ask Million Each

DENVER (U) — Eighty-eight survivors of men lost during the Korean conflict sued the federal government for one million dollars each.

The main plaintiff was Eugene R. Guild of Glenwood Springs, Colo., whose son, Marine Lt. John Guild, was killed in action in Korea. Guild later demanded that the atomic bomb be used in Korea to minimize American losses.

Guild and 87 other persons who lost sons or husbands in Korea charged in the suit, filed Tuesday in Federal District Court, that presidents Truman and Eisenhower, acting for the federal government, "needlessly and in violation of the Constitution, deprived the plaintiffs of their sons or husbands, who in consequence lost their lives or their liberty."

The suit alleges that both Mr. Truman and Mr. Eisenhower withheld "tactical and strategic support" from American soldiers in Korea.

Cook County Fair, Convention Hall Before Supreme Court

SPRINGFIELD (U) — The 1955 legislation authorizing a Cook County Fair and Exposition Authority and a Chicago convention hall faced its first challenge in the Illinois Supreme Court Tuesday.

Downstate fair associations objected to the legislation because it authorized use of money from the State Fair and Exposition Fund to underwrite the bonds for the hall, and tightened restrictions on use of the fund by downstate fairs.

The case reached the Supreme Court on appeal from Sangamon County Circuit Court, which had ruled the legislation was constitutional.

Court Upholds Death Sentences

SPRINGFIELD (U) — The Illinois Supreme Court today upheld the death sentences of condemned killers Vincent Ciucci and George Kelly.

Ciucci, 29, Chicago, was sentenced to death for the murder of his wife and three children. Kelly was convicted in Cook County Criminal Court for the murder of Robert Gottstein in 1954.

MILWAUKEE (U) — Nine men were drowned in Lake Michigan squalls off this city Tuesday night and early today, seven of them in the sinking of a barge at work on a construction project.

Three of the victims in the barge mishap were found and identified early today. Shortly before 9 a. m. the Coast Guard said it had recovered four other bodies, making a total of seven known dead.

Tuesday night two fishermen drowned.

A sudden thunderstorm and squall whipped over the barge about 4 a. m. today, throwing its load of workmen into the water as it sank.

Ten survivors were hospitalized suffering with shock and exposure.

Gets Unexpected Raise

WASHINGTON (U) — Edward K. Mills Jr., former mayor of Morristown, N. J., accepted a government job and then received a promotion and a thousand-dollar raise before he reported to work.

On May 9, General Services Administrator Franklin G. Floete announced that Mills would become general counsel of the agency on June 4 at a salary of $13,975. But there was a switch in plans, and Mills was scheduled to be sworn in today as deputy administrator at an annual salary of $15,000.

National and State Presidents Visit American War Dads Auxiliary Chapter

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ackman of Macomb, and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Fanning of Jacksonville, were entertained at a luncheon Sunday by Harrisburg chapter No. 59 of the American War Dads and the Auxiliary.

In the afternoon, Mrs. Ackman, who is the National president of the American War Dads Auxiliary, presided at the institution ceremony for the new auxiliary chapter and presented the charter.

Mrs. Fanning, Illinois State president, then installed the officers with a beautiful candlelight ceremony and presented the chapter with a lovely leather-bound book to be used by the chapter historian for the written history of the chapter and its activities.

Small gifts were presented by the Auxiliary to the National and State presidents.

A short question and answer session was held by the visiting officers to clarify problems presented by the members and officers of the chapter.

While the Auxiliary officers were being installed, War Dad chapter president, Alvin Porter, and secretary-treasurer, Harry Rayfield, had a business conference with Mr. Fanning and Mr. Ackman. Mr. Fanning is immediate past State president of the War Dads and is a member of the National Council and has held several other state and national offices. Mr. Ackman is a member of the State Council and has also held several other offices and has been active in American War Dad work for many years.

Alvin Porter, president of Harrisburg chapter No. 59, American War Dads, and Mrs. Porter, who was installed as president of the Auxiliary, are both members of the Illinois State Council.

Other officers installed were: Mrs. Charles Sullivan, senior vice president; Mrs. Connie Bennett, treasurer; Mrs. Don Butler, secretary; Mrs. Forest Groves Sr., chaplain; Mrs. B. A. Wright, sergeant-at-arms.

Mrs. Kenneth Boyett, junior vice president, and Mrs. H. L. Trawick, historian, were unable to be present.

Mrs. Ackman told the Auxiliary members, "The American War Dads and its Auxiliary with their sons and daughters had a great stake in the war and have a great stake in the peace, and we must plan now for peace for the welfare of our children in this vital period of transition." She pointed out that one of the objectives of the Auxiliary was to build a better community, a stronger state, a finer nation, and a more understanding world, and to work for a just and lasting peace.

Fire Put Out—Finally

LONDON (AP)—Weary firemen finally put out a deep air raid shelter fire Tuesday night, battling the blaze for 24 hours. Thirty-six firemen were injured. The fire burned in a maze of tunnels 150 feet under downtown London which had been used as Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's signal headquarters during World War II.

Nike Missiles Hit 500-Mile Per Hour Targets

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUNDS, N. M. (AP)—Obviously pleased Army officials planned eight or 10 more "shoots" of the controversial Nike anti-aircraft weapon today from semiprivate launching sites in rough mountain terrain.

Some 115 newsmen and photographers watched spellbound Tuesday as two Nike missiles were launched to intercept a tiny drone target, traveling faster than 500 miles an hour at an altitude of 15,000 feet.

The slender, 20-foot-long Nikes, fired two seconds apart, climbed to 10,000 feet within three and one-half seconds, and then leveled into a wide arc. One missile hit the drone, which was only 11 feet long with an eight-foot wing span, and exploded. The other Nike, close by, quickly was blown up by a self-destruction device.

The Army said it had planned the unrestricted demonstration long before the Pentagon erupted in an argument about the relative merits of Nike and the Air Force's Talos, developed by the Navy. The Army said furthermore that it had made little change in its routine launching procedure for the press demonstration.

After the successful demonstration Tuesday, Maj. Gen. Robert J. Wood, commander of the anti-aircraft artillery and guided missile center at nearby Ft. Bliss, Tex., said the newsmen had seen Nike—and that a successor now in development, Nike B, would be able to go far beyond the altitude range of "aircraft with which we are now familiar."

The Army demonstrated two other types of missiles Tuesday—the surface-to-surface Corporal rocket and the Honest John artillery ballistic missile. Both rockets scored solid hits on ground targets.

Reid Parsons, 45, Of Stonefort Dies

Reid Parsons, 45, resident of Stonefort, died Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the home of his mother, Mrs. Rebecca Parsons, in the McCormick community of Pope County.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 1 p. m. at the Zion church east of Ozark. Rev. Elmer Grisham, assisted by Rev. John Henson, will officiate and burial will be in the church cemetery with Masonic rites.

He is survived by his wife, Lorraine, his mother, Mrs. Rebecca Parsons, two brothers, Joyce and Van, both of Stonefort, and four sisters: Mrs. Wayne Wyatt, Mrs. Fred Taylor, Mrs. Randall Taylor, all of New Burnside, and Mrs. Hal Dawes, Vienna.

The Thornton funeral home of Stonefort is in charge.

Eisenhower Defends Armed Service Feuds

a cut in taxes until a start can be made on reducing the national debt. This, he said, is a matter of financial integrity.

3. He said he believes too much pessimism is being expressed in this country about the condition of the world today. He conceded that, in a cooperative democratic effort to achieve a unified international approach to foreign problems, there is bound to be more disagreement than there would be under a totalitarian system.

4. He said he believes Egypt made a mistake in recognizing Red China. But he added that a single act by another nation does not destroy this country's friendship for that nation or deter our willingness to work cooperatively.

5. He dismissed the idea that a nation with a large stock of hydrogen bombs could "win" a war in 24 hours. What would result, he said, would be a real shambles.

6. Mr. Eisenhower defended the World War II Anzio beach landing in Italy as a successful military operation that tied up 28 German divisions. But he said he had already been ordered out of the Mediterranean theater command when it was planned and he did not personally favor all details of the operation. These remarks were obviously meant as a reply to former President Truman's remark in Italy Tuesday that some "squirrel headed general" planned the Anzio landing.

7. Mr. Eisenhower said the recent H-bomb tests at Eniwetok was a success, that the studies which the Atomic Energy Commission wanted to make were achieved.

8. He voiced great doubt about the advisability of calling southern governors to a White House conference on school desegregation problems. He said it was possible such a conference might only "exacerbate" the situation.

Boczkiewicz Rites At Galatia Thursday

Funeral services for Mrs. Fannie Boczkiewicz, Galatia resident who died yesterday at the home of her son, Tom, in New Shawnee town, will be Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Courtney funeral home in Galatia. ## Soviet Leaders Invited To Visit Scandinavia

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Sweden, Norway and Denmark have invited Russian leaders to visit Scandinavia.

Ambassadors of the three nations extended the invitations to Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist Party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev in Moscow Tuesday.

The Soviet bosses were urged to make the visit at a time "convenient" to them. Sources in Oslo indicated they probably will make it next spring.

ference on school desegregation problems. He said it was possible such a conference might only "exacerbate" the situation.

Goes Into Feud

Mr. Eisenhower discussed the armed services feud at some length.

He repeatedly drummed on the idea that the strength of America is not in missiles and bombs, but a total thing involving every segment of the population and the economy.

Achieving national security, he said, involves a complicated effort on a tremendously broad front. He said this is not merely confined to the Pentagon Building and the arms plants.

Hi kids! Well from now on this teen column is going to be a regular part of The Daily Register. Every Wednesday I'll be giving you the latest news from the Penthouse. Here we go on our first bit of news —

While the juniors and seniors were at the Prom, Friday night, the freshmen and sophomores were having a "ball" at the Penthouse. From all reports — "fun was had by all." It was a well prepared party with refreshments served by the St. Mary's Altar society and music furnished by the Eldorado dance band. And I might add my congratulations for the fine job by the decoration committee.

Social Security Benefits Total $415 Million Per Month

CHICAGO (AP) — Social security benefits paid out have increased 80 fold since the law's inception, Commerce Clearing House reported today.

Benefits now running about 415 million dollars a month are expected to increase "astronomically" as more workers retire, the private reporting authority on tax and business law said.

In 1941, benefits paid out amounted to only $5,333,000 per month, CCH said.

Alaska was purchased from Russia in 1867. It was called a district until Aug. 24, 1912, when it became a territory.

Area Railroads Need Skilled Help

Continued improvement in traffic has caused the local railroads to expand their maintenance and transportation forces according to Courtney G. Clower, Railroad Retirement Board manager. While roadbed is getting the usual spring attention, maintenance and renewal of equipment is also a major project this year.

Mr. Clower stated his office normally supplies the railroads' personnel requirements from claimants registering for benefits under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, but is finding it increasingly difficult to meet their needs for certain skills. He stated there is presently a shortage of experienced carmen, machinists, electricians, switchmen and clerks. Clower urges interested persons possessing these skills, especially former railroaders, to contact his office located at 338 Missouri Avenue, East St. Louis, Ill.

Employer Group Charges Politics In Castle Ruling

CHICAGO (AP) — An employer group has labeled Atty. Gen. LaSham Castle's opinion paying the way for guaranteed annual wage contracts in Illinois as "purely political."

Bertram J. Cahn, chairman of the Information committee on Unemployment Benefits, said Monday Castle's opinion issued last week was "directly contrary to and in conflict with" the state laws.

Castle had declared that labor contracts with supplemental unemployment benefits are legal.

Cahn said the committee would continue to study ways that the state "and the economy as a whole may be best safeguarded from the effects of the decision."

Organizers of the committee were the Associated Employers of Illinois, Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry, Illinois Federation of Retail Associations, Illinois Manufacturers Assn., and Illinois Chamber of Commerce.

$203,934 in Savings Bonds Purchased in Saline County in April

The Daily Register, Harrisburg, Illinois
Page Two, Section Two
Wednesday, May 23, 1956

Saline county residents purchased a total of $203,934, in Series E and F United States Savings bonds in the month of April, according to figures received from the Treasury Department by Walter Bargman of Harrisburg, Volunteer Savings Bonds county chairman.

With May 1st marking the Fifteenth Anniversary of the introduction of the Series E United States Savings Bond, sales of both Series in Illinois were $41,467,772. Illinois accounted for 10% of national sales, which were $413,697,000, for April.

"Give 'The Present With A Future', indestructible, bonds come in all sizes and increase in value as the years go by," T. Merle Paul, State Sales Director of the U. S. Savings Bonds Division, advises Illinois residents who are picking a gift for the boy or girl graduate this year.

Signal Corps In Study of Tornadoes

FORT MONMOUTH, N. J. (UP)—They're making miniature tornadoes and "fingerprinting" lightning here in a drive to aid weather forecasters in getting the jump on brewing "twisters."

Later, scientists of the Army Signal Corps Engineering Laboratories hope to map storm winds by using aluminum "confetti" and radar.

These are some of the techniques Army meteorologists are employing in their cloud-physics research aimed at curbing the high tolls inflicted annually by tornadoes.

According to records here, more than 9,000 persons have been killed and more than half a billion dollars' worth of property has been wrecked in the past 40 years by tornadoes, which have been reported in every state. To combat the problem the meteorologists are pressing the attack in three directions.

Two Winds

One of their weapons is a laboratory tank in which they have broken a tornado into its basic elements in order to spawn miniature twisters.

The scientists say their "tornado tank" experiments verify an 1887 theory of William Ferrel, an early Signal Corps meteorologist. He believed that two separate winds, an updraft and a slow circulating current near the ground, must tangle to spawn a tornado. By themselves, these two types of wind are relatively harmless.

In the Fort Monmouth tank, a glass-sided affair similar to a fish tank, water currents replace winds. Water sucked from the top through a glass tube creates the "updraft," while a slow rotating current is developed underneath.

Dr. H. K. Weickmann, developer of the tank, said that when the two currents clash there is a simulation of what happens in the big volume of air during a natural storm.

Another phase of the counter-attack on tornadoes is a plan to cast a 30-mile line of aluminum confetti, or chaff, in the path of a storm from a research aircraft. Lightning Studied

The chaff, used during World War II to jam radars by causing confusing images on scopes, will be used to trace wind patterns in a storm. The chaff clouds will be tracked by ground and airborne radars.

The drop, planned for next year's tornado season near Oklahoma City, is believed to be the first time aluminum chaff-mapping will be tried in tornado research. The project had been planned for this spring or summer, but had to be postponed because of defense priority difficulties in securing the proper aircraft.

In the third phase of the tornado research the scientists are studying lightning from storms for characteristics that may identify them as potential tornadoes. Such a lightning "fingerprint," they believe, could give away a twister even before it formed.

Dr. Weickmann emphasized that the Signal Corps research is designed to provide the key to an early tornado alert and not to break up or prevent tornadoes.

Jamming on brakes is the most frequent cause of skidding on slippery roads.

A NEW KIND OF BEER FOR AMERICA'S NEW WAY OF LIVING

The idea for it came from Bavaria: Why not a bright, refreshing beer like they drink in that land of sports and festivals and fun? And so it's here—made by America's leading brewer. A beer as clear and bright as a day in the Alps, as refreshing as mountain air. A beer that leaves your taste fresh... is light on the tongue. Their cell couldn't have held 40 men properly. It contained 90 "Greek saboteurs." There were no bunks, no heat, no toilet facilities, no water. Only stone and bars. The other "saboteurs" ranged from a boy of 10 who had stolen a carton of cigarettes to a man of 80 who had stolen a loaf of bread. Lice swarmed everywhere. Mammoth rats roamed.

Each morning dead men were pulled from the tank. From one of the two small windows Mike could look down into the center courtyard of Averof. Twenty-four hours a day horrible torture sessions went on. Each dawn a firing squad eliminated another batch of "saboteurs"—men who stood shivering against the gray stone wall. Each dawn the guard Hans would select some "saboteur" from Mike's tank for execution. He would line up all the prisoners in the corridor and taunt them as he limped up and down the line, an insane smirk on his face.

On the fourth morning, Elpis was dragged to the stone wall in the courtyard. Her screams were feeble but they still reached her husband's ears. They strapped her to a post. And the firing squad lined up.

Ben and Mike kept a suicide watch over the bereaved Palestinian. The one slim hope was Ben's connection with the outside world—a Greek guard named Axiotis. He was one of the few in Averof inherited by the Germans. The ancient jailer ran a profitable business of smuggling out messages and smuggling in bread, wine and tobacco. Hans was aware of it, but allowed it to continue as long as he received a portion of Axiotis' take.

Each day brought him closer to Konrad Heilser. Ben looked forward to it for it meant transfer to the P.O.W. side of Averof.

On the fifth day Yichiel was removed from the cell.

At the end of the corridor, Colonel Oberg and his staff were marching along crisply, inspecting the cages of misery. Ben raced up to the bars.

"Hey, wienerschnitzel!"

Oberg whirled about.

"Hey, why don't you be a good bloke and send us over to the other side of the yard with the P.O.W.s?"

"Aha, my two British saboteurs."

"Now, come on, wienerschnitzel. In another two days we'll be as nutty as your guards."

"I take it, Herr Masterton, you've had enough of Greek criminals?"

"I've had enough of you savin' the world from communism. I just don't like the 'ospitality 'ere."

For some curious reason, Colonel Oberg seemed to feel some affection for Ben Masterton. A smile cracked his Prussian lips.

"And while you're about it," Ben said, "I'd like to know what 'appened to our cobber?"

"The Jew?"

"The British soldier."

"Rather unfortunate, Ben. He took ill—quite ill."

"I'll bet he did."

Oberg looked angry at first, then sighed in disgust. He turned to his clerk. "See that Herr Masterton and his friend are taken to Gestapo tomorrow and sent over to the P.O.W. compound on return."

"Thanks, matey."

"Masterton, do me a favor. The next time you escape—please don't get recaptured." Colonel Oberg went away.

Mike told Axiotis he would pay 100,000 drachmas to deliver a note.

"But, Jay," Ben said, "you don't have to pay that for one simple message."

"I've got to get it out tonight."

Axiotis nodded. A grin broke out on the ancient jailer's face as he pocketed the money. He was told that a return message would bring another reward. The note was addressed to Lazarus, a truck farmer in Chalandri, with instructions to get the message to Lisa immediately. It read:

Helena: I am in Averof. Tomorrow I am to be taken to Gestapo for questioning. Vassili.

Helser's face tightened. He was in serious trouble now. Von Ribbentrop had certainly selected the worst possible time for a visit to Greece. British escapees were roaming all over the country and resistance was increasing daily. Just how many documents had already been stolen from the Germans would be known when and if Morrison made his escape and contacted the British.

Konrad Heilser sat on a powder keg and the fuse grew short.

He gulped a sedative and rubbed his throbbing temples. The old self-assurance was shattered now. If only he could lay hands on Morrison and learn the names on the Stergiou list, it would throw the entire Underground into a panic. He sank into a chair behind his marble-top desk and mixed another sedative.

Zervos entered without knocking. He smiled at his squirming confederate. No matter who took over the Gestapo, he, Zervos, was secure in his position.

"Konrad," Zervos said, "it is time for our appointment with Lisa."

Heilser thumbed through the papers on his desk. "You go. Colonel Oberg phoned this morning from Averof. He is sending two British escapees over for questioning."

"Anyone of importance?"

"Only that nuisance, Ben Masterton. I wish he'd make one of his escapes good."

"The other?"

Heilser looked at the preliminary report. "New Zealander, name of Linden—Jay Linden. We have no records on him."

Paper Boy with M. A. Has Right to Be Late

DES MOINES, Ia. (AP)—Donald Harrington apologized to Mrs. Helen Vernon when he was late delivering her paper at Iowa Methodist Hospital. He said one of his school classes extended far beyond the normal closing time.

"I'm probably the only paper boy in existence with a master's degree," said the 24-year-old native of Pittsburg.

He is working for his Ph.D. at St. Louis College.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
Written for NEA Service

Crossword puzzles contain some very strange letter combinations which make up words found in some dictionary. At least the lexicon gives definitions for these words which must be used by some people on occasions.

If you work enough of these puzzles, you become familiar with some of these words but you seldom use them in conversation. The reason you do not is that they are unfamiliar to other people. Even if we heard them once in a while we should refrain from introducing them into conversation.

Most of us do not have large enough vocabularies to adequately express our every thought, but we have learned to keep our conversations simple.

The serious problem we face about words is not one of familiarizing ourselves with crossword puzzle oddities. We need to use words which express our thoughts clearly. We must avoid misunderstandings.

We must learn to be forceful in our conversation so that we do not fall into the error of becoming "wishy washy." Men must stand for something and not turn aside from their convictions.

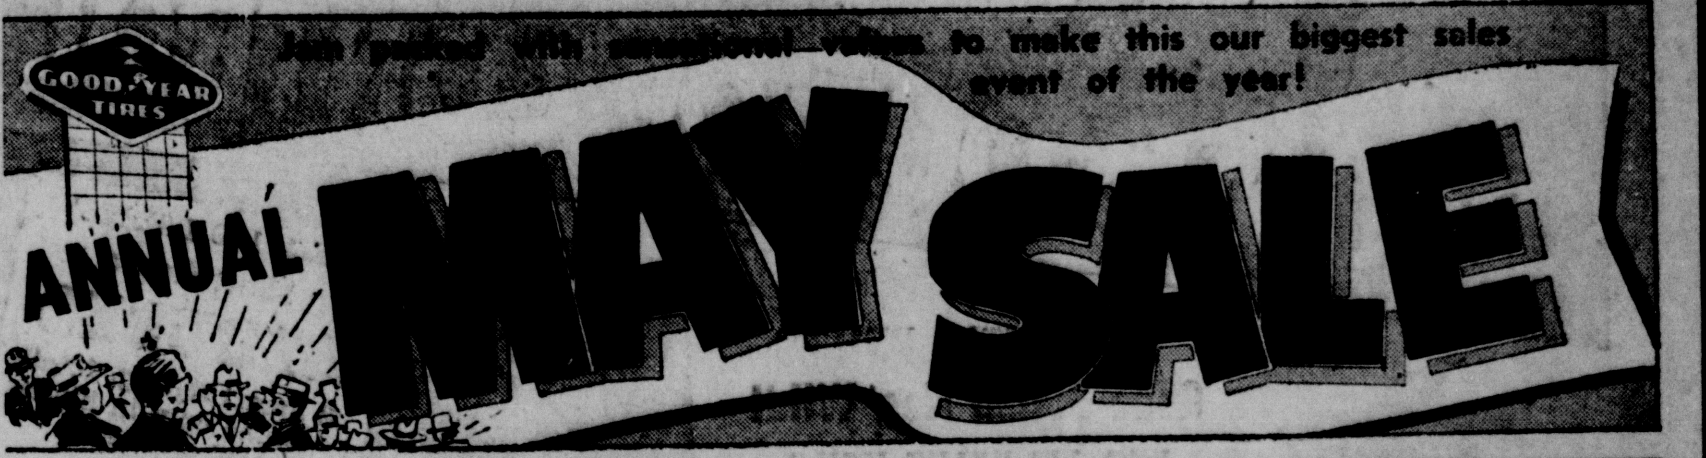

Lack of conviction and lack of clear expression have caused as much grief and torment in the world as sin itself.

Think clearly. Speak concisely. Use understandable words without double meanings. Believe in what you say.

Ulysses Grant was first to have a salary of more than $25,000 as U. S. president. He began getting $50,000 for his second term.
